

Raymondville, Mo.

Mrs. Pat Atkinson
Bicentennial Com.
Kirwin, Kansas. 67644

Dear Mrs. Atkinson:

I hit the jackpot in finding the information you are asking for — The first person I contacted, Miss Myrtle Holt, Houston, Mo. had this clipping. Her mother was a great saver of historical items. She had more than one clipping as during the years it had been published more than one time.

It is also in History of Texas Co. in Texas Co. Library, Houston, Mo.

The home he built here at Raymondville, is still a nice big

2-story house, owned by Mr.
and Mrs. Andy Lee Johnson.

I am glad to be of help to you in this project. Hope your bicentennial is a success.

We are also having a Centennial of Raymondville as it has been a 100 yrs. since our Post Office was established. I enjoy it all but the long whiskers, particularly the ones on my husband's face. Ha

Mrs. Ewa Grose, city clerk
Raymondville, Mo.
65555

I found another person that knows lots of interesting things about this
You can contact him -

Mr. Carlos Copeland, Houston, Mo
65483